MEMORANDUM

February 11, 1938

AF 101-841

When I was a senior in college I am sure that of the experiences I was having would remain fresh and vivid in my memory, forever. They meant so much to me, I didn't even realize it at the time, but now, years later, I realize that the experiences I had were in fact, many of these experiences of my still life inevitably become the life in my

There is, I think, a genuine delight in going out into the world, and then, I read it through the cover of my book, and live over in memory my college days. It is a life of living experience.

Be it a L'Agenda will be your permanent memoranda of your days at Bucknell. I hope each of you will treasure it as a precious memory of the long years ahead of you.
In the future, the directions, the power which are the life of your future lives.

Cordially yours,

Arnaud C. Marts
ARNAUD C. MARTS.

MRS. DOROTHY T. DYER, Dean of Women at Bucknell since February, 1937, was formerly assistant to the junior dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, Ohio State University, and is a graduate and holder of the B. S. degree in home economics from this same university. Mrs. Dyer also holds an M. A. degree in psychology from the University of Minnesota, where she specialized in personnel and guidance work. Mrs. Dyer's study suits her well for her position as Dean of Women, and by her sincere advice and interest in our campus life, she has won a definite place in the Bucknell scheme of things.

SINCE September, 1923, Dr. R. H. Rivenburg has been Dean of Bucknell University, from which College he was graduated in 1897, and has served as Vice-President of the College since 1935. Dean Rivenburg has served as President of the Eastern Association of College Deans and Advisers of Men, and is President of the High Education Department of the Pennsylvania State Education Association. The advice and help of Dean Rivenburg are deeply appreciated by all students.

COUNCILING COMMITTEE

A NEW group organized on the campus this year is the Student Counseling Committee, which functions for the purpose of providing counsel for the individual student and organizing group activity and dormitory life. The Central Committee is composed of five members; and there is also a General Committee of thirty-nine other faculty members. The Central Committee is composed of R. L. Sutherland, who is most concerned with the problems in the men's dormitories; Mrs. Dyer, who is responsible for the problems among the women students; P. L. Harriman, who is in charge of the testing bureau which provides aptitude tests for those students who desire them; R. E. Page, who is most interested in the fraternity groups and Student-Faculty Congress; and C. M. Bond, who plans Freshman Week, and works with matters concerning the relation of religious activities to the general student group.

Remarkable innovations and improvements have been effected under the leadership of the Central Committee. Aptitude tests have been provided for two hundred and fifty students upon request. The proctors in the dormitories have been transformed into Dormitory Counselors who hold regular seminars with the faculty advisers to discuss dormitory problems.

ADMINISTRATORS

H. W. HOLTER—The Registrar's office, headed by Mr. Holter, carries on an extensive program of student selection and admission. Already the campaign for students who are to enter Bucknell next fall has been started. School bulletins and schedules originate here. To this group is entrusted the program of commencement activities.

D. L. RANCK—Mr. Ranck and his colleagues are entrusted with the responsibility of administering successfully the financial business of the college. Through this department the annual funds of Bucknell, amounting to three-quarters of a million dollars, are dispersed.

T. E. EISLEY—Miss Eisley, Editor of the University News Service, supervises the distribution of all Bucknell news articles. In her releases, Miss Eisley emphasizes student activity.

M. H. HUNT—Miss Hunt, coming to Bucknell as Secretary to the President, later acquired the duties of recorder in which she takes care of all scholastic records for application purposes.

B. W. GRIFFITH—Professor Griffith, business manager of intercollegiate athletics and a representative on the athletic council, finds his load heaviest when he tries to manage his financial affairs successfully.

F. G. DAVIS—Dr. Davis plans the summer school and the instructors and administration of the extension program. To him is entrusted the in-service training of teachers, most of whom are graduate students working for their master's degrees.

FACULTY

FACULTY ADVISORY COUNCIL

Standing: Theiss, Keevil, Bond, Page, Sprague, Stolz

THE Faculty Advisory Council is composed of twelve members, representing the twelve curricular groups of the University. The terms of office of the members are two years in length, one-half of the membership being replaced each year.

This group deals with general faculty problems, referred to it for discussion or originated among its members. The committee has no administrative duties, but considers problems such as faculty administrative policies, effects of required courses and their influence on faculty loads, admissions, and relations among faculty members and trustees. In substance, the committee exists for the purpose of bringing up policies and problems supported by a group more efficiently than by an individual.

FACULTY

THE faculty as a whole usually meets the last Tuesday in every month. This group has no administrative duties, but is concerned with general faculty problems that may be referred to or originated by it. Its function is to investigate and recommend policies concerning matters such as faculty administrative policies, study of effects of required courses on student distribution and faculty loads, admissions, and inter-faculty and trustee relations. The faculty as a whole serves as a spokesman on matters that are better understood by a group than by individuals.

A Faculty Meeting

IN THE more than fifty courses offered in the English department at Bucknell, ample opportunity is afforded the student for an ordinary undergraduate course in English as well as for an advanced degree. The department is divided into four major divisions: (1) composition, (2) journalism, (3) public speaking, and (4) literature. There is a wide variety of courses in each of these divisions.

The aims of the department are twofold: the development of a practical knowledge of the essentials of English, and an appreciation of the cultural values of the wealth of writings in English. There are introductory as well as advanced courses, so that a student may begin and proceed as far along the list of courses as he desires.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE

AT Bucknell the study of foreign languages continues to be exceedingly popular. The study of languages other than one's native tongue is of great value both culturally and practically. The ancient languages open up for the student vast treasures of classical literature. The modern languages are important to the present-day scholar, because a knowledge of them permits a reading of the important scientific and literary products of fellow nations. A knowledge of foreign languages enables the student to appreciate the noteworthy advances of other nations and to become more closely acquainted with world-wide thought.

There are five languages offered for study at Bucknell. These are French, Spanish, German, Latin, and Greek. A study of these languages offers a chance for better understanding of English, as well as a keener appreciation of the charms of language.

COMMERCE AND FINANCE

THE Commerce and Finance Department aims to present carefully and clearly an idea of the operations of modern business, as well as the fundamental economic principles. The courses in this department are all developed with this aim in view. Some of the offerings may be listed: general accounting, cost accounting and auditing, statistics, taxation, credits and collections, shorthand, typewriting, money, banking, marketing, advertising, business law, salesmanship, finance, investments, personnel work, management, insurance, and public utilities.

Bachelor of Science Degrees are offered in three distinct groups of courses: General Business Course, Secretarial Course, and Commercial Teacher Training Course. There are also majors and minors offered for students working for the Bachelor of Arts Degree.

SOCIAL SCIENCE

STUDENTS of the social sciences are steadily increasing in number at Bucknell. There is a definite movement towards greater interest in social studies and social problems throughout the country. This movement can be seen in the attempts to strengthen the Social Science departments in colleges as well as in the movement to introduce more studies of a social nature and value into the curricula of the public school system.

This department prepares students for a continuation of study in various fields such as law or social work as well as for teaching social studies in the secondary schools. Although graduate work is needed in most cases after completion of a course at Bucknell, the department offers an extensive preliminary course with the view of strengthening the training possibilities.

PHILOSOPHY, PSYCHOLOGY, RELIGION, ART

THE four academic departments in this group are very important in the makeup of any institution of higher learning. They present to the student avenues of thought which in many cases he has never travelled before. These subjects encourage an open mind, freedom of thinking, a knowledge of oneself and one's fellowmen, a love and appreciation of that which is finest and most beautiful around us. A student interested in any one of these fields may major in it and receive ample guidance and instruction in his chosen field.

MUSIC

THE Music Department at Bucknell is one of the most active departments on the campus. Opportunities are offered to all students who are interested in music to follow their desired course, whether for a cultural knowledge and understanding of music or for a professional career in the field. The staff of the music school is composed of individuals trained in many different phases of the music field, and adequate training can be furnished by them.

The Carnegie Music Library, the Glee Club, the Mixed Chorus, Symphony Orchestra, Oratorios, Organ Recitals, String Quartet — all these give more strength to the extensive work and great value of the department.

BIOLOGICAL SCIENCE

THE study of the Biological Sciences has become increasingly important in the college curriculum. Its purpose is to train students for laboratory work, teaching, and specialized work in medicine. A general information course for liberal arts students acquaint them with the fundamental knowledge of themselves and other living organisms. Biology is an essential requirement of a well-rounded college course because it helps man to realize that he is a living organism of everyday life, a fact which he must understand if he wants to have health and happiness.

PHYSICAL SCIENCE

BOTH the cultural and the professional aspects of the study of the Physical Sciences are taken into consideration by the professors in this department. The Physical Sciences may be studied with the aim of adding to cultural knowledge and as a foundation for one's life work.

To help in its program, the department has a lecture room well equipped with apparatus for demonstrations, such as lantern slides, moving picture films, and sound films.

Work in physics is maintained on a high plane. The laboratory is complete with the newest instruments as well as some pieces of great historical interest and value.

THE careers and fields of work where mathematics training is advised may be divided into two classes: those in which concentration in mathematics is necessary, and those in which some training in mathematics is desirable.

In the first class may be mentioned the occupations of the teacher of mathematics, scientists, and engineers. In the second class may be included work in accounting, education, law, and health.

The department is aided in accomplishing its many duties by having a staff of men who have had excellent training in pure and applied mathematics. These men make it their aim to adapt the curricula to meet present-day requirements.

The courses in astronomy are mainly cultural, and serve the purpose of giving the student a deeper insight into the physical universe in which we live.

ENGINEERING

Stetkewicz, Keevil, Kunkel, Gardner, Anthony
Rhodes, Griffith, Irland, Shaffer, Garman, Drum

THE engineering courses are designed to lay the foundations in science and technology, which are essential to a successful career in the engineering profession, and also to develop character, personality, and culture, all of which are necessary for success in any field.

New laboratory equipment is being purchased for all the engineering departments, and prospects for the early completion of the Engineering Building are considerably brightened by contributions of large sums of money.

Bucknell offers courses in Chemical, Civil, Electrical, and Mechanical Engineering. The laboratory equipment for each of these courses is adequate for a thorough four-year course. All courses are small, with the courses in the different departments being closely interwoven.

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION

THE Education Department takes the responsibility for the professional training of teachers, both in the elementary and secondary school field. Special offerings of the department are the Demonstration School, the Guidance Clinic, field work, in which a persistent attempt is made to enable the teacher to obtain practical experiences, and a placement bureau, conducted for the benefit of Bucknell graduates.

Kappa Phi Kappa, men's professional education fraternity, and Kappa Delta Epsilon, women's honorary education sorority, which was chartered this past year, aim to furnish training for the field of education, with an opportunity for professional and social contacts. In addition, the Bucknell Journal of Education, carrying educational articles of merit, is published by the department four times a year.

Standing: Reno, Humphreys, Sitarsky

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

WITH the thought that a keen mind is found in a healthy body, the department of Physical Education has organized a thorough course in general physical training, giving opportunity for all to participate in various forms of competitive athletics, under the direction of skilled instructors. A well-planned intercollegiate and intramural program is carried out by the students.

With the completion of the new gymnasium, the department hopes to include any new sports for which facilities are available, such as badminton, fencing, table tennis, bowling, billiards, and squashball. Trap shooting for sophomores, as well as wrestling, are recent additions to the program.

LIBRARY

THE Library as the "heart of the college" has been keeping pace with the growth of Bucknell in other fields.

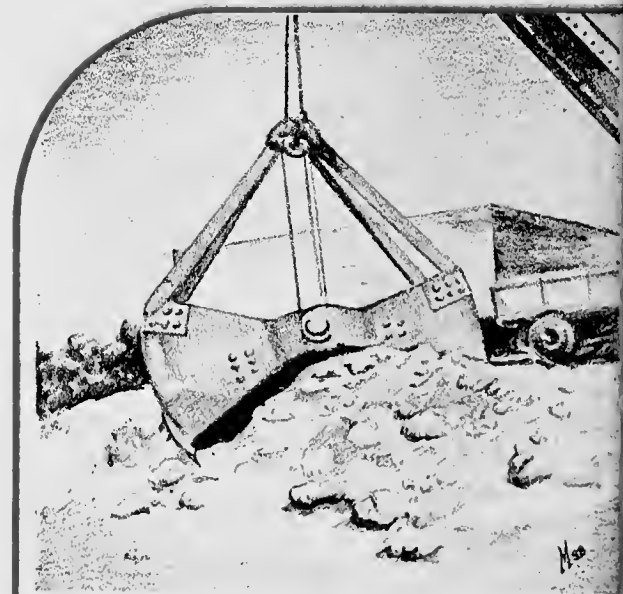

The Reference room answers questions concerning material to be found on all sorts of subjects.

The Periodical room gives up to the minute information, and contemporary opinion on all questions of interest to the scholar and to the general public.

The Reserve Book room supplies the material for special assignments.

The Catalog and open shelves allow the student to find information readily, and to familiarize himself with the books in his field.

SYNOPSIS OF SCENES

NINETEEN THIRTY-EIGHT sees the emergence from Bucknell of 240 seniors, whose hopes and aspirations for the future are reminiscent of similar hopes with which these same students entered Bucknell four years ago. Off to the traditional damp start in the Water Parade, the class of '38 was on the receiving end of the "fun"; the next year's attempted retaliation in the Frosh-Soph Scrap put the class in a similar unfortunate position.

Prom, 1937, was the leading social event of that year, due primarily to the efforts of Joseph Deegan and his committee. The final dance conducted by the members of the class of '38, Senior Ball, was the success which the last dance of a college group should be.

Thus, through four successive years of growth and change, the class of '38 once again will become 240 individuals, re-entering the life which four years ago they left, much enriched by the experiences occurring at Bucknell.

AS a play entails the interested efforts of authors and actors to produce the desired action and effect, to gain similar action an organized group must have a competent cast to carry out the policies decided upon by their officers. Thus far the class of '39 has in every way followed the annually-set theme placed before it by the successive presidents elected by the class.

The event of prime importance which the Junior Class as a whole sponsors is the promenade. Continuing the policy adopted last year in engaging a lesser known orchestra for the Sophomore Cotillion, the committee for the Prom presented Dick Stabile and his orchestra to the Bucknell students, on February 25. Mr. Stabile's orchestra even exceeded expectations and gave all the Prom-trotters a gay session of swing music. The dance, held in the Women's Dining Room, called forth all the devotees of modern swing, and once more the Junior Prom marked the social high-light of the year.

Junior Prom Committee

To the Prom committee and chairman, Martin Maloney, should be given commendation for their combined efforts to make the dance a success. Professor Donald E. Stillman, especially, should be thanked for the time and work which he gave to help the committee give Bucknell once again a superior Promenade.

TO the Class of 1940 goes the distinction of being the last Bucknell class to paint its numerals on the Water Tower during the traditional Freshman-Sophomore fight. Their numerals decorate the Water Tower for one year when, in the fall of 1937, the Tower was covered with aluminum paint, and now stands bereft of any distinctive markings.

Socially, the class has been active, both individually and collectively. Sophomore Cotillion, for which Hudson De-Lange provided the music, was a successful social event, despite the fact that the orchestra was not too well known on the Bucknell campus.

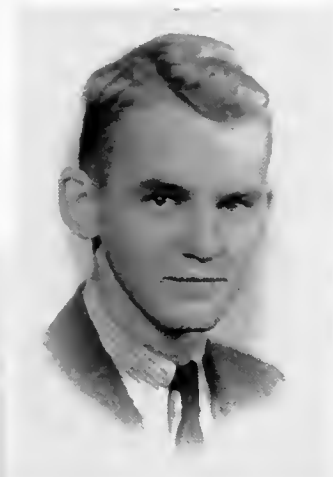

On emerging from the freshman hazing to which they were submitted, the sophomore men retaliated vicariously by compelling the men of '41 to stage an open-air masquerade party for the benefit of the Homecoming Game spectators. Toward the end of the parade, when it seemed likely that the freshmen would attempt to make the sophomore men pay for their pleasure, the men of '40 stood their ground vigorously and carried the day.

THE ingenue's in the drama of Bucknell made their debut during the fall of 1937, full of high hopes and ambitions. Their vivacious spirit captured the hearts of the other members of the cast and added to the colorful picture of campus life. One of their first achievements, which was proof of their high degree of cooperativeness, was the winning of the Freshman-Sophomore Scrap; the award being the privilege to discard the traditional "green-topped" cap and black tie. Without the tell-tale costume, the Freshmen assumed an air of dignity befitting a college student, and played their role adeptly.

The climax of the production was the gala Hallowe'en Party held in Larison Hall, at which the masqueraders made known their love of gaiety.

The class of '41, because of its characteristic spirit, is a versatile group participating in all of the social and extra-curricular activities which are a part of campus life. It is evident that they will play the leading role in future years, and will continue to be outstanding in the drama which is college.

1938 L'AGENDA

THE L'Agenda of 1938 is the second Senior yearbook to be published at Bucknell University. With the changing of the old tradition last year, this year's L'Agenda carries on the new idea by presenting a yearbook which, although including all important activities of campus life, devotes itself particularly to the class of 1938. The staff has devoted its entire efforts to making it a book of quality in all respects.

This year, the Junior staff has been done away with as a separate unit, and the Juniors have worked on the main staff which is divided into four working units: editorial, photographs, art, and business.

The theme of the L'Agenda is particularly appropriate for the year 1938 because it deals with "Progress at Bucknell", emphasizing the great amount of building construction which has taken place throughout the college year. The rebuilding and rededication of Old Main and the construction of the new gymnasium, as well as the change in landscaping — each is a notable step forward for Bucknell.

The division of the subject matter of the book remains much the same as it was in last year's L'Agenda, but the layouts of the various sections are essentially different. The section of Representative Seniors is similar to last year's, but the inclusion of a Senior women's beauty section is an innovation in the 1938 L'Agenda.

Frank Alexander, Business Manager

THE Bucknellian is the weekly, eight-page newspaper publication of the University which is handled entirely by a student staff, many of which are students in the Journalism department of the University. The editorial staff members are chosen by merit by the members of the staff itself.

The Bucknellian is a member of the Intercollegiate Newspaper Association, and this year sent two delegates to the convention of that organization which was held at Lafayette University. As a result of this convention, the Bucknellian decided to enter into the plan of the I. N. A. to form a campaign of education against social diseases.

The Bucknellian has included several new features throughout the past year. One was the introduction of a full page devoted entirely to social activities on the campus. Many cuts, feature articles on social customs and affairs, and a column titled "From Suites and Chapter Rooms" made up this new social section. Another innovation of the year was the literary page of the paper which was included once a month, and which contained student efforts in creative writing. Other feature columns introduced were "Cannon Fire", and "The Man on the Hill." Both of these contained interesting comments on sports, activities, and personalities in campus life.

STUDENT HANDBOOK

THE Student Handbook is a compedium of information for freshmen and upper classmen and a general account of the organizations of the college. It serves to introduce campus activities to the freshmen, and for other students is a reference to college rules and regulations.

Innovations this year are a blue suede cover with an orange bison stamped on it, pictures of sorority suites and fraternity houses, and a section on prominent Bucknell Alumni.

The book is annually distributed to the incoming freshman class through the work of members of the Christian Association.

THE Board of Publications is the executive council under which all campus publications are organized. It appoints the staff members for these publications on the basis of merit, and its consent is necessary for any new literary venture.

CAP &

CAP AND DAGGER is the Bucknell dramatic organization in which membership is gained by tryouts, technical work and participation in plays. It is a self-supporting organization

To try to bring the best in drama to the University and to give the students a chance to show their dramatic ability is the purpose of Cap and Dagger.

This year an innovation was sponsored in bringing Paul

DAGGER

Davies, Both, Donnelly

Wing's N B C. Program to the campus to demonstrate theatre and radio technique

Cap and Dagger has presented "Craig's Wife", "Bird in Hand", "The Night of January 16th", Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night", "Winterset" and "The Last of Mrs. Cheyney"

Paul Gies

ORCHESTRA

THE Symphony Orchestra is composed of the musically minded students who desire to study the more profound music. Music of the Classical and Romantic periods affords splendid opportunity for enrichment of the students' cultural background.

In addition to concerts on the campus and appearances in chapel, the Symphony Orchestra and Mixed Chorus have combined their efforts in the presentation of a three day Bach Festival which was held in Wilkes-Barre at the beginning of April.

COLLEGIUM MUSICUM

THE Collegium Musicum is a vital development in Bucknell's musical field. It is composed of a small group of students from the Symphony Orchestra who desire to study more particularly the music of the Renaissance period. Instruments of this period are used to reproduce the delicacy and fineness of the Renaissance. The Collegium is conducted by Paul Gies

MIXED CHORUS

THE Mixed Chorus is a group of about one hundred men's and women's voices under the direction of Miss Grace Jenkins. Careful selection of voices is made, and regular attendance at practice is required to remain in the group and receive the one credit hour given for this musical study.

Several large concerts are given each year. It is a tradition for the group to present Handel's "Messiah." This year it was produced on January 19 under the direction of Dr. Paul G. Stolz.

Paul G. Stolz

Liebensberger, Barnes, Balbirnie, Oaks

The chief study of the year was for the Bach Festival held in Wilkes-Barre on March 28, and April 2 and 3. For this "The Passion According to St. Matthew" was presented. "The Passion" was also sung at the Spring Festival. For Commencement, the chorus presented a Mass by Haydn, which has been given only a few times in this country.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB

Melvin Le Mon

Ralston Shups

THE Men's Glee Club has been under the able direction of Assistant Professor Le Mon since the spring of 1933. Mr. Le Mon organized the club as an extra-curricular activity, and thence forward it has increased in size and popularity.

The present school year found one hundred and ten candidates for membership in the organization, which after a series of competitive try-outs was reduced to eighty members. The club has gained the enthusiastic support of the students and the administration, and acts as a connecting link between the University and the Alumni. It is also the only campus organization to appear before high school student bodies in an effort to acquaint them with Bucknell.

The repertoire has gone through a process of development and enlargement, and this year's program includes twenty-two selections consisting of the works of famous composers, semi-classical numbers, anthracite folk songs, and Bucknell songs.

For its annual tour this year, the club presented twenty concerts in the District of Columbia, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and New York. In this seven day tour, audiences included alumnae clubs, high school student bodies, church assemblies, and Y. M. C. A. patrons. Two national broadcasts were also presented during the tour: one from WJZ over the National Broadcasting system, and the other from WOR over the Mutual system.

The Glee Club, in addition to its twenty concerts presented on the annual tour, appeared in many more concerts on the campus and in neighboring cities.

It has become traditional for the organization to sing at the Father's Day Banquet, Alumni Banquet, in the church on Mother's Day, at the Spring Festival, and at Commencement.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

THE Girls' Glee Club is a group of select voices from 125 voices in the Mixed Chorus. Directed by Miss Grace Jenkins, the group presents several noteworthy concerts a year, among them, the traditional concert during the May Festival. Short tours are taken to neighboring towns and cities. Singing for the Re-dedication of Old Main, the Education Conference, the University's presentation of "Messiah", and Bach's "The Passion of St. Matthew", provided the campus with fine music, and gained the admiration of Bucknell's supporters.

A small chorus of women's voices is chosen from the Glee Club to present special concerts. It is a tradition for this group to sing at the annual Christmas Faculty Dinner. This year, Debussy's "Blessed Damsel" and chorals by Bach and Shutz featured several concerts.

Melvin Le Mon
Director

BUCKNELL BAND

THE Bucknell Band is one of the most progressive student organizations on the Bucknell University campus. Under the direction of Professor Melvin Le Mon and Manager Lester McDowell, the Band has increased in size and has greatly improved performance.

This year, through the helpful interest of President Marts, the Band has secured a practice room beneath the Women's Dining Room. Here the members have perfect freedom for practice, which is scheduled for four times a week, and here arrangements are made for a bigger and better Band for 1939.

This past year has seen the Band at its best. The most outstanding innovations of the year were the two Drum Majors, Bernice Henry and Walter Biddle, and the use of lights on the Band caps for the night games.

Walter Biddle
Bernice Henry
Drum Majors

A Drum and Bugle Corps of twenty-four girls has been added to the personnel of the Band, and made its debut when Ex-Governor Pinchot visited Lewisburg this spring.

The Band, aside from campus concerts, makes several outside performances, and this year, in an Armistice Day Parade in Milton, won two prizes — one for the best Drum Majors — another for the best band.

This spring the Band offers three concerts, one at the Spring Festival, a Twilight Concert for Alumni Week-end, and replaces the Symphony Orchestra for a Commencement Concert.

With the untiring work of Director Melvin Le Mon and Drill Master Lester McDowell, the organization is looking forward to an eighty-piece band for next fall.

DEBATE- CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

WOMEN'S DEBATING

THE Women's Debating Team is made up of six college women and Maxine Askey as student manager. This year the team has held a series of interesting contests with a great number of other colleges.

They played hostesses to such schools as West Virginia University, Penn State, and the University of Vermont. The team made a trip through the New England states in the past year, and while there, they met Rhode Island State College, Pembroke, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Colby, University of Vermont, University of Maine, Boston University, and Middlebury College.

Robert T. Oliver

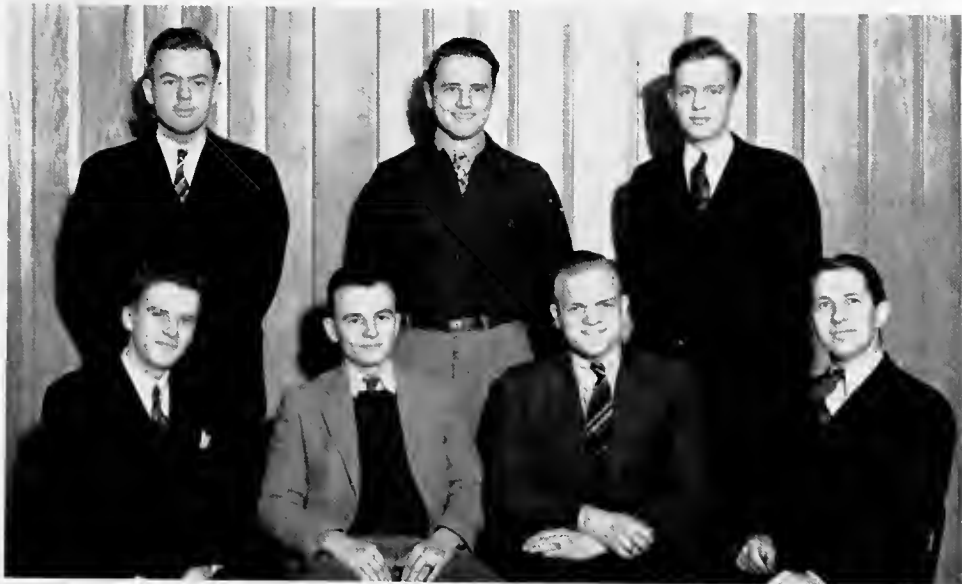

MEN'S DEBATE

THE Bucknell University Debating Team received the honor of being elected into membership of the Intercollegiate Debate League last spring, and this year they auspiciously opened that membership with two victories in December against Lafayette College and Wesleyan College.

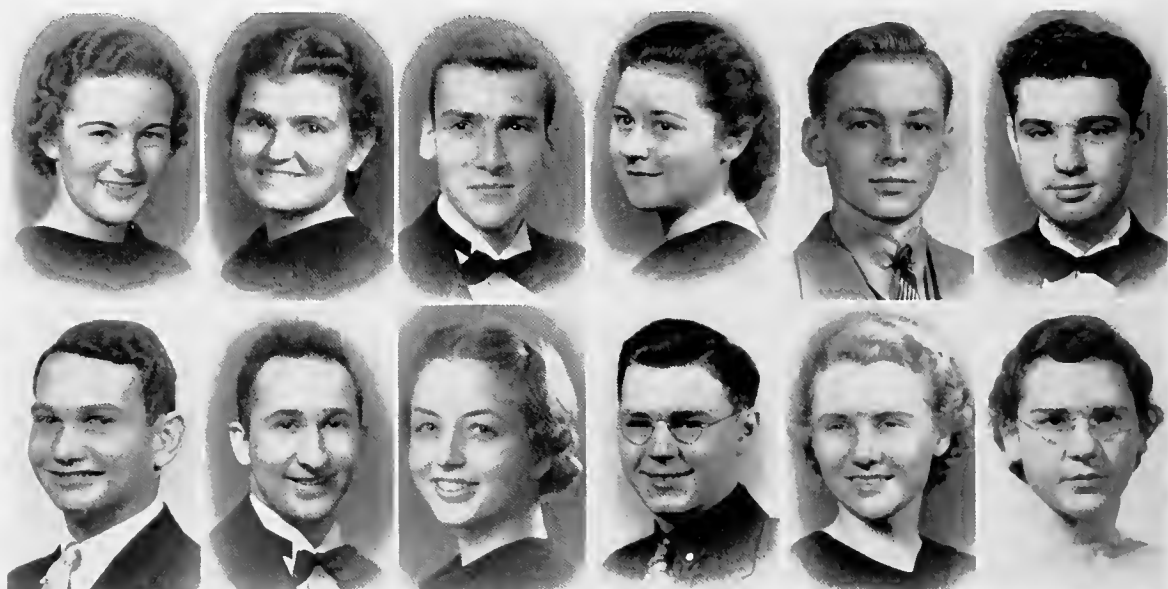

The team has had a very active program for the year, having sent four men on two long trips. The first of these was a trip taken through the New England states at which time debates were held with New York University, Amherst, Columbia, Wesleyan, Providence, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Boston University, Bates, Colby, University of Vermont, Middlebury, and Williams College.

The second of these trips included contests with more localized colleges such as Swarthmore, Ursinus, Villanova, University of Pennsylvania, Drexel, Western Maryland, Washington and Lee, and Georgetown.

The coach of the debating squad is Assistant Professor Robert T. Oliver. The team achieved a very successful season under the guidance of Mr. Oliver who is a new member of the Bucknell faculty.

CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

Row 1: McKenna, Parker, Fox, Kurtz, J. Gault, Heisen
Row 2: Condict, Gage, G. Gault, Griesemer, McMahan, Shields

THE Christian Association is one of the largest and most important organization at Bucknell. It is responsible for the presentation of many interesting programs and activities during the school year. These include such important functions as the Mother's Day and Father's Day programs, the Christmas Bazaar, the children's Christmas Party, and a series of successful Open Houses.

The Association is directed primarily by Forrest D. Brown, the executive secretary of the organization. Twelve students form an executive committee which, aided by an Advisory Committee of students, ministers, and faculty members, leads the Association in various types of campus activity. One of the most interesting of these is Student Church, which is held every Sunday evening of the school year, and which is entirely under student management.

C. A. Cabin

The C. A. at Bucknell is one of the strongest in the Student Movement, and this year it has been active in several other intercollegiate conferences. The Association on this campus was host to five other colleges in a Worship Seminar, and, in addition, sent a large delegation to the Student Assembly at Miami University during the Christmas holidays.

This year saw the attainment of a C. A. cabin which was erected last summer on a site of twenty-eight acres of woodland and fields located about seven miles from the University. Many outings to the cabin were conducted throughout the year, and sleeping quarters were made available so that several week-end trips became possible. The cabin has been used a great deal by other organizations than the C. A. during the short time of its existence.

In accordance with last year's precedent, the C. A. has continued to sponsor a series of folk dances. This type of dancing became so popular on the campus that an All-College Folk Dance was presented during the year.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

STUDENT FACULTY CONGRESS

Seated: Theiss, Musser, McKenna, Dilts, Dyer, Laubacher, Streeter, Maloney, Fox, Page, Brown
Standing: Leinbach, Dunham, Doblin, Friedman, Kephart

THE Student-Faculty Congress, a central agency designed to coordinate all extra-curricular and student governing activities on the campus, this year ended its fifth consecutive year of service. Selected along broadly democratic lines, its membership of twenty-seven persons includes representatives of all student interests.

This year, as usual, the Congress executed its routine functions: distribution of student budget funds totalling $15,105; fostering of student spirit rallies, enforcement of freshman rules through its tribunal; and cooperation with its social committee in developing a healthy all-college social program.

Broadening its area of action, the Congress also shouldered the responsibility for operating the new motion picture equipment in the Literature Auditorium. A student-faculty committee headed by Dr. H. W. Robbins has had active charge of this new project.

WOMEN'S STUDENT GOVERNMENT

Seated: King, Nicholls, Naumann, Oaks, Ranck, Bennett, Talbot
Standing: Haire, McKenna, Stecker, Davis, Christopher, Dils

THE Women's Student Government Association is the governing body of the women students. It is a representative body chosen from the four classes of the sorority and non-sorority organizations. The Senate acts as the executive and legislative body for the group.

Each year the W. S. G. A. sponsors a student-faculty Christmas banquet — the girls acting as hostesses to the faculty members.

Meetings of the entire W. S. G. A. are held monthly, at which time prominent speakers address the group. Moving-up Day is a tradition of W. S. G. A. At this time the members of each class officially become a class higher, and new officers are installed.

This year CO-ED Night, which originally was a Leap Year affair, was revived in the form of a dance and social, with the girls acting as escorts.

A new guidance program has been promoted by the Women's Student Government this year. A series of prominent leaders in this field have spent time on our campus interviewing the girls, and speaking before the girls at their meetings. Among these leaders was Mrs. Chase Going Woodhouse.

RESUME

THE combination of a new coach, a new system, a small and inexperienced squad, the injury jinx, and a difficult schedule, made the Bison lot for '37 a hard one. Be it said to the credit of Coach Al Humphreys and his assistant, "Bus" Blum, that in spite of their handicaps, they managed to give Bucknell a total of three wins and two ties out of an eight game schedule.

The highspots of the season came during the Penn State and Temple tilts, while Bucknell suffered a new low in being defeated by Albright, who, although small, was undefeated and unscored at the end of its season.

Considering the fact that in most of the games there were six sophomores in the lineup, and only one senior, Bucknell's inexperienced men made creditable showing for themselves.

The Bison backfield, composed of sophomores Funair and Kiick, and juniors Lane and Tomasetti, proved the equal, if not the better of any of its opponents. But, contrary to gridiron tradition at Lewisburg, Bucknell suffered through a weak line.

In view of the fact that the charges of freshman Coach Johnny Sitarsky did not win any of their four games, and scored in only one of these, Coach Humphreys is not to be envied for his position when the season of 1938 looms in sight.

BUCKNELL .. URSINUS

INITIATING his first game as coach in college football, the ex-Illinois star, and popular new Bucknell mentor, Al Humphreys, was presented with a 21 to 0 victory over the Ursinus Bears.

In this game, it was Tomasetti and Funair who did the scoring, the former chalking up a pair of six pointers on short drives, while Funair, in his first varsity game, intercepted a pass, and romped 47 yards for his score. Quick made good three attempts in as many tries for the extra point.

In spite of pre-season injuries which hit the squad, the Bucknell line acquitted itself very well in the season's opener. It was as a result of this game that two guards were lost for the remainder of the year, when Kanter suffered a broken ankle, and Grieco received a broken shoulder.

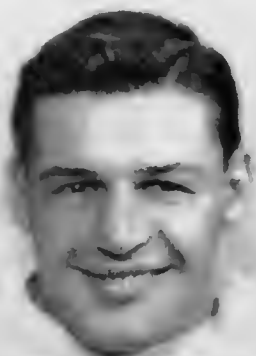

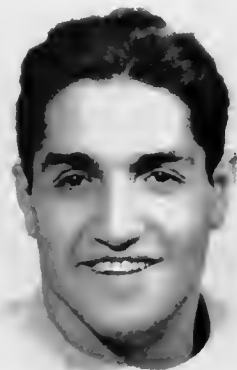

BUCKNELL LEBANON VALLEY

AGAIN it was Tomasetti and Funair who featured the game with a single touchdown each, and with an added extra point, the game ended 13 to 0 in favor of the still unscored upon Bisons.

The second game of the year resulted in a punting duel between Bucknell's sterling quarterback, Lane, and Kress, who played the same position for the Bears. Lane continued his usual consistent punting behind a good blocking line, and outdistanced his rival as much as six yards a try.

Out of the four passes attempted by Bucknell in this game none were completed, and the Humphreymen had to resort to power plays for all of their thirteen first downs.

Quick again accounted for the extra point.

BUCKNELL .. PENN STATE

THE thriller of the entire 1937 season proved to be the Bison's annual encounter with its old rival, the Nittany Lion of Penn State. The score ended 20 to 14 in favor of State, but it was in reality a moral victory for Bucknell, who furnished plenty of excitement for the State students and alumnae on their Homecoming Day.

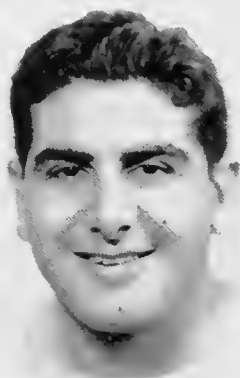

Entering the game as a decided underdog, the Bucknell eleven put up a brilliant showing in the downpour that lasted from the opening kickoff until the final whistle, and it was not until the last four minutes of play that the State team pushed across the winning touchdown.

The lead changed hands no less than five times, with Bucknell coming from behind twice to give the State followers something to worry about.

With Tomasetti and Funair completely held in check, it remained for Lane and Wenner, and end, to do the scoring. Quick proved his consistency by making good two tries for extra points, in spite of the wet ball.

State scored in the first four minutes of play when they capitalized on a fumble, but the kick was wide, and they led 6 to 0. Three minutes later, Bucknell retaliated, and at the end of the first quarter were out in front 7 to 6. The Nittany Lion struck back, and after making the extra point, retired at the half with a 13 to 7 score in their favor. The third period was scoreless, and when only eleven minutes of the game remained, Bucknell again came from behind, and surged to the fore 14 to 13. With almost sure victory in sight for Bucknell, Penn State again crossed their visitor's goal, and the game ended 20 to 14.

BUCKNELL .. MIAMI

THE third game of the series between the Bisons and the Miami Hurricanes did nothing to break the deadlock of one game each, and even complicated matters more by ending in a tie score of 6 to 6.

The series was opened on New Year's Day, 1935, in the Orange Bowl Classic which Bucknell won by a large margin. In the fall of '38, the Hurricanes swept North, and retired with a 6 to 0 victory over the boys from Lewisburg.

Employing the same tactics as they used the year previous, the visitors of the South waited until the waning moments of the fray to turn on their power, and brought the score to a tie just before the game ended.

The sophomore flash, Frank Funair, scored for the Bisons on a short run for the five yard line in the opening moments of the second half.

Against Miami, Bucknell showed, for the first time, an open field game, and as the Hurricanes used the same type of play, the contest was packed with thrills from start to finish. Tomasetti was again the spear head of attack.

Bucknell, a pre-game favorite, held the edge until the last quarter when Miami opened up with a fast attack which called into play deception of the highest order.

In its last night game of the season, the Bison line looked improved over the week previous, and good blocking was evident throughout.

BUCKNELL .. VILLANOVA

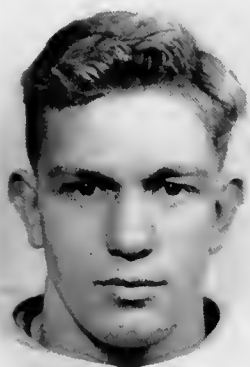

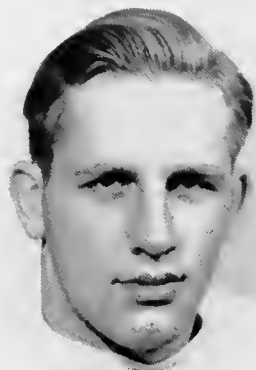

MUCH more in the game that a score of 21 to 0 would indicate, Bucknell was literally and actually swamped under a tide of fresh Villanova reserves who kept streaming into the lineup set on vengeance against the team who spoiled their undefeated record of the year previous. Bucknell, with its handful of substitutes, was impotent.

Although the Bucknell eleven was able to bottle up All-American Wysocki, the Villanova Wildcat, was not to be denied. Capitalizing on all their breaks, the victors countered in the opening minutes, and twice more in the last quarter. Bison quarterback, Lane, through the medium of his toe, was all that kept the main liners from having a veritable field day. With a wet ball on a muddy field Lane averaged over 47 yards per try in 14 kicks.

Bucknell suffered not a single penalty in the game, while Villanova lost a total of 106 yards by various penalties. Several times the Orange and Blue threatened, but in each instance, the Wildcat line braced, and showed the power which carried them through to an undefeated season. It was as a result of his work in this game that Lane was later picked by Villanova on their mythical all opponent team as the best quarterback that had faced during the season.

BUCKNELL .. ALBRIGHT

THE Bucknell squad more depleted than ever by injuries, and still smarting under the defeat of the week previous, lost a listless game to Albright by the margin of a 6 to 0 score.

Entering the game against a hard fighting and keyed up Albright eleven, the Orange and Blue displayed a sluggish defense, and an offense which functioned well only between the two twenty-five yard stripes.

Lane kept the Bison out of hot water through his punting, and proved the only ground gainer of the day for Bucknell. Riffle of Albright made the only score of the game on a short plunge from the two-yard marker.

BUCKNELL .. FURMAN

JOURNEYING to Greenville, S. C., for their next game, Bucknell ran over the gridders of Furman University to the tune of 20 to 7.

Partially because they again had the services of some of the regulars who had not seen action for several previous games, partially because the spirit had changed, and partially because Furman was out of its class, Coach Humphrey's men were able to score in every period except the third.

Behind good blocking on the part of the Bison line, Bowman, Lane, and Rhodes, each scored a touchdown. Jones, a reserve back for Bucknell, took individual honors for the day by getting off several long runs in addition to some fine passing, and punt returning.

BUCKNELL .. TEMPLE

FOR the sixth year since he has been at Temple, Pop Warner was again unable to score a victory over the boys from Lewisburg, and the game ended in a scoreless tie.

Bucknell, playing the Homecoming game against the Owls, played inspired football, though ankle deep in water and mud. On a gridiron which looked more like a small lake than anything else, quarterback Lane resorted to punting, and waiting for the breaks. Temple adopted the same policy.

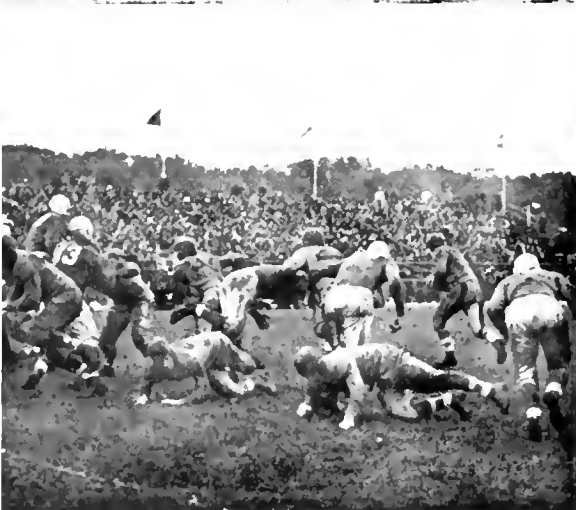

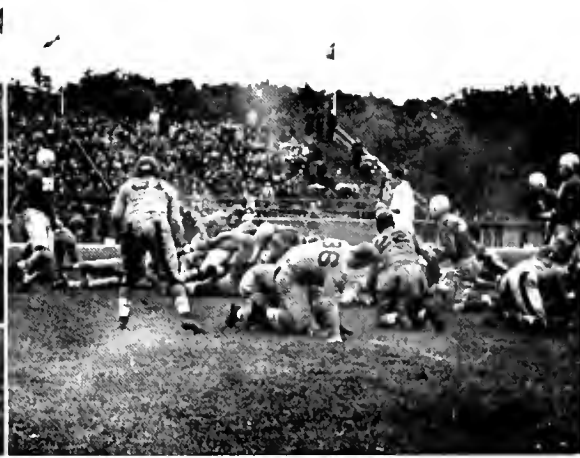

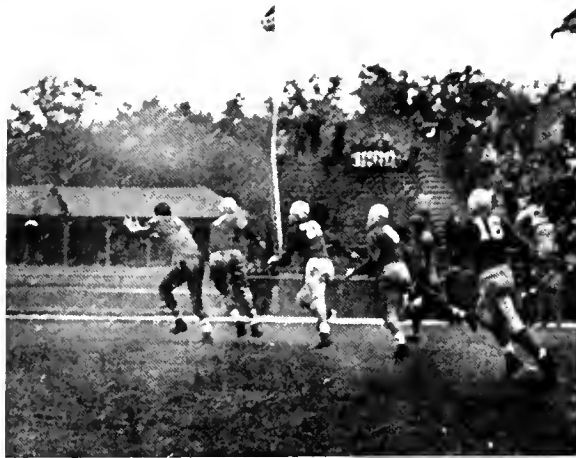

In the third quarter Tomasetti crossed the goal line, but the wet ball slipped from his fingers as he did so, and with that went Bucknell's only close chance for a score. Temple threw a scare into the fans in the Bucknell stands when they managed to slide and skid down to the Bucknell four-yard line. Here the Bison line held, and on their last down Temple fumbled in desperate attempt to score.

The same spirit which was evident in the Penn State encounter was displayed in the clash with the men from the Quaker City. Time after time Bucknell repelled the powerful attacks of the Owls, and worked themselves out of a difficult spot when spirit was the only thing that could accomplish the task.

It was a moral victory for the Orange and Blue, who entered the game with the odds against them, and it was a fine finish to a season which was an up-hill struggle all the way. Co-Captains Conti and Bowman closed their college careers in football with wonderful exhibitions of teamwork and ability.

THE SOCCER SEASON

UNDER its new soccer coach, Moe Edwards, the team, with three sophomores in the starting lineup, fought its way through a season marked by bits of outstanding performance, as well as spells of mediocrity.

The team, playing a desultory brand of soccer, did not find its stride until near the end of the season, but, nevertheless, turned in a record of four victories and a tie, in an eight game schedule. In view of the fact that there were three sophomores on the first team, and only three seniors will be lost by graduation, Bucknell's prospects in soccer for the season of 1938 are considerably better than average.

Against an inexperienced Rider College team, the Bison booters were able to gain a 3 to 1 victory by playing a fast charging line throughout the contest. The following week, against the champions of the East, Penn State, Bucknell lost a scrappy game, played in a ceaseless downpour on the home field of the Nittany Lion, 6 to 0. The East Stroudsburg game turned into a rough and tumble set-to with the Bucknell boys ending up on the short side of a 2 to 0 score. The F. and M. team proved to be a match for the Bisons, in fact, the teams were so evenly matched that at the end of the game, the score stood tied at one all. Two extra periods brought about no change in the score, and the final result had to stand at 1 to 1. At Dickinson, Bucknell found itself in for another game which displayed the rougher side of the sport, and again the Orange and Blue were defeated; this time by a 1 to 0 score. Against the highly touted Lafayette eleven the Bisons hit their peak, and spoiled the seven game winning streak of the Leopard by a margin of a 1 to 0 triumph. In meeting Delaware, Bucknell was again to pull the unexpected, and came through to win 2 to 1 over the highly favored opponent. This game was another in which the rain was a big factor. Fitly enough, the proteges of Coach Edwards closed their season with a 2 to 1 win over the Temple Owls.

THE SEASON

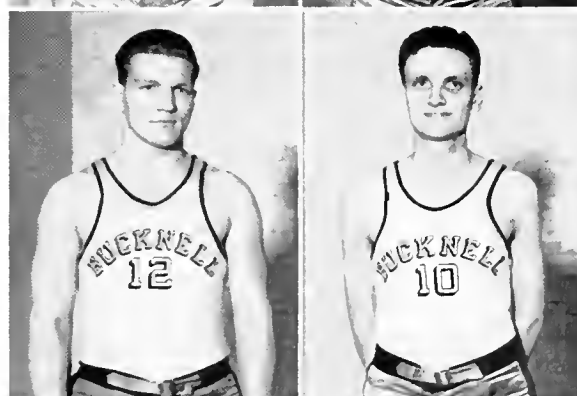

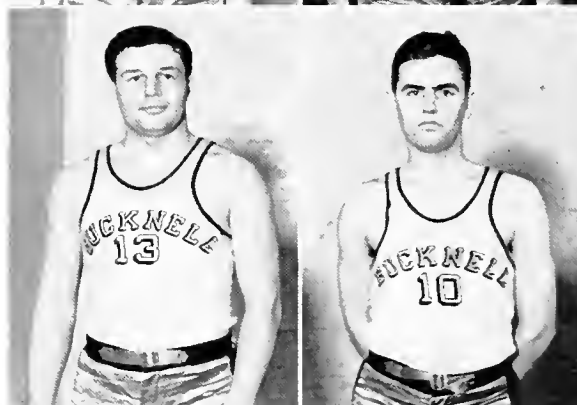

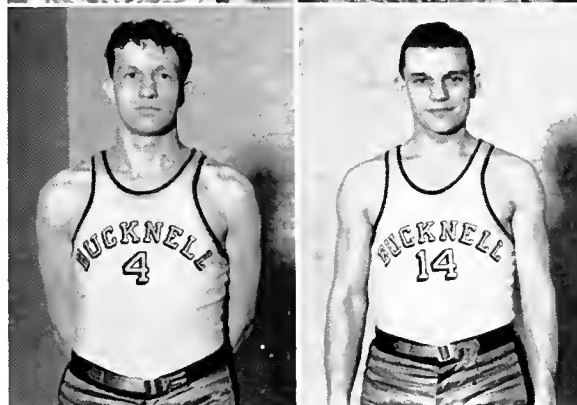

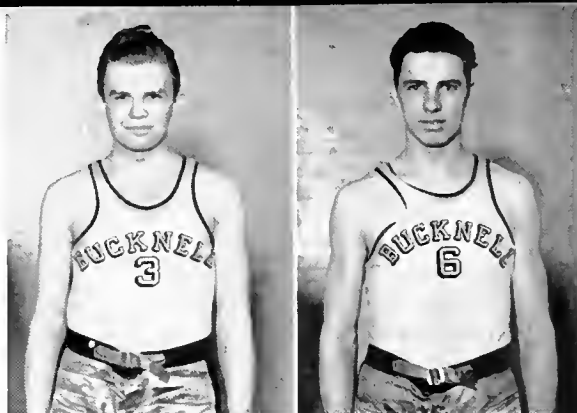

AFTER an erratic beginning, the Bison quintet finally settled down to what proved to be a fairly profitable season. The last nine games of the schedule were played without a single defeat.

The loss of three men from last year's team, coupled with the fact that only one man returned from the championship freshman team, furnished Coach Musser with a difficult problem which was not solved until near the middle of the season.

Co-Captains Sager and Foltz were the only two men assured of their positions, and in the mad scramble which resulted, Küick, Summers, and Deegan emerged as regulars.

Due to the fact that the new gymnasium could not be finished until next season, Bucknell was again hampered by inadequate facilities, and playing away on such floors as those of Penn State, Cornell, and Lehigh, the Bisons found it hard to adapt themselves.

As three of the members of this year's varsity are Seniors, Coach Musser will have to look to a not-too-promising freshman group to form the nucleus of the 1938-39 quintet.

THE SEASON

THE traditional Bucknell headache, as far as boxing goes, continued and the Renomen continued to lose time after time the lightest and heaviest weights. Had Bucknell taken both these divisions as they did the 125 lb. and 175 lb. classes, the Bisons would have turned in an undefeated record.

As the case stands, Bucknell won only two of its dual meets and finished second in the Conference Championships which they won last year.

Quick, the Orange and Blue 175 pounder went undefeated, and Stephanou, who fought in the 125 pound class, lost only one of his bouts. The 1937 Conference Champion in the 145 pound class, Ballard, boxed in the 135 pound class this year, and suffered the worst season of his career.

With veterans Rockefeller, Walker, Reider, Funair, and Quick returning, prospects for next year are better than average. Possible varsity material for the coming season showed up in the intramural bouts in the 118 lb., 125 lb., and 165 lb. weights.

THE SEASON

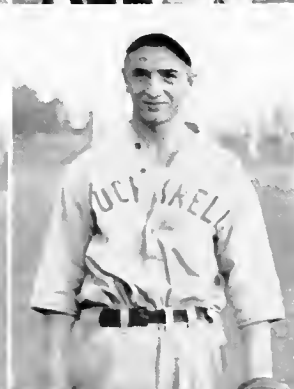

BY winning only two games of its entire schedule, the 1937 Bison nine turned in the worst season in Bucknell's baseball history. Victories against Albright and Susquehanna were the only bright spots in a poor season.

Not the least of the reasons why Bucknell made such a poor showing is the fact that Coach Mylin was busy with spring football practice at the same time. Added to this were: lack of material, and no time for practice in that the gym is too small for practice, and the weather kept the ground soft until late in the year.

An inconsistent infield, coupled with a hitless outfield and a poor mound staff made matters all the worse. In some games costly errors on the part of the infield spelled the difference between victory and defeat; in others it was poor pitching, but at no time did Bucknell have what appeared to be a winning combination.

In view of the fact that a quartet of the most experienced men on the squad has graduated, it would appear that Bucknell is in for another hopeless season in the year of 1938.

The season was culminated with the announcement that Bucknell had withdrawn as a member of the Eastern Intercollegiate Baseball Conference.

THE SEASON

AN experienced team led by Captain Frank Dunham, with the newcomer McCall making a strong bid for high honors, was able to turn in a successful record of seven victories, two defeats, and four meets rained out.

Scoring decisive wins over such schools as Georgetown, Villanova, Western Maryland, and New York University, Bucknell proved to have a well balanced team. It was McCall who turned in the best record among the individual members of the team, but all made creditable showings, and Coach Ballentine looks forward to a successful season in '38. With Dunham the only member of the team to graduate, there is much of a nucleus for the year.

Of the two matches that Bucknell lost, that of Penn State was given to the leader when rain intervened, while Bucknell was still granted a mathematical chance to win. The other, lost 7 to 2 to a strong Lehigh team, was the fourth meet in as many days for the Bison Racqueteers, all of which were played away.

THE TEAM

THE SEASON

BUCKNELL began a revival of interest in track, and the '37 season, sporadic as it was, produced a vast amount of material, which, with a little experience, will be a credit to its coach, John Plant.

The leading point getter of the season was Captain Ed Stebbins, who ran the short dashes, and on one occasion turned in the excellent time of 9.7 for the 100 yard dash. Along with Stebbins, Friedman, a quarter-miler, Eyer, a distance runner, and Conti and Pocius, field men, were outstanding.

Bucknell's record of three wins in five meets could have been improved with the addition of more talent in the field events. After winning the mile relay in their class at the Penn Relays in '36, Bucknell returned with chances of again annexing the title, but Stebbins had the misfortune to fall while rounding the turn, and Bucknell was thus out of the running.

Encouragement is obtained from the freshmen who produced several track men of some ability, of whom Cohan and Schrieber, both distance men, are outstanding. The new season promises to be a repetition of last year with Bucknell again weak in the field events.

It has been the duty of the physical education department to select and advise the group of students who administer intramural sports with regard to scheduling sports, selection of referees and judges, and awarding cups and medals to group and individual champions.

This council has been in effect since 1932, and has proven itself indispensable to the student athletic program. Under the chairmanship of the Fall Manager are Soccer and Cross Country; the winter sports are basketball, volleyball, boxing, and wrestling; the spring sports are baseball, and track. Besides these sports for which points count toward the annual trophy, there are foul shooting, horseshoe pitching, tennis, handball, and golf. In these contests the participants may compete for individual medals only.

THE Women's Athletic Association is a council consisting of the Director of Physical Education for Women, one delegate from each sorority, and one from the Student Campus Club. Its purpose is to stimulate sports and to supervise all women's athletic competition.

During the 1937-38 season, the council added a new feature to the usual program of baseball, hockey, tennis, basketball, and ping-pong tournaments. For the first time at Bucknell, they arranged a Play-Day. This is a friendly gesture, inviting representatives from four other colleges to visit the Bucknell campus for a day of games.

SOFTBALL

BY rallying to win the last two games of the three-tilt series after dropping the opener, Delta Sigma fraternity won the Intramural Softball Championship, topping T. U. O.

The semi-finals saw the Demies shut out the Phi Gam's, while Hawkins, T. U. O., was pitching his team to its seventh straight win of the season over Phi Psi.

All three games of the final series were close with victory at stake up to the last.

TRACK AND FIELD

SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON paced by their individual stars, Pocius and Cannestro, proved conspicuously to be the outstanding team of the 1937 Intramural Track and Field Meet by leading their nearest rival, Phi Gamma Delta, with an amassed total of 56 to the latter's 20 points.

This meet was historical in that all-time Bucknell Intramural records were eclipsed.

CROSS COUNTRY

THE Sigma Chi outfit clinched the 1937 Cross Country Cup, and broke the hold which the non-fraternity men had on it during the two previous years. Charles Eyer, Sigma Chi, finished first for the third consecutive year in the fast time of 20 minutes, 29 and 4 5 seconds. The Lambda Chi Harriers finished second in the fraternity scoring, followed by the Kappa Sigs.

Members of the winning Sigma Chi team, each receiving a gold medal were: Eyer, Johnson, Hoffman, and Snyder, who finished first, seventh, eighth, and twelfth, respectively. The first ten men in order of their positions were: Eyer, S. C., Schreiber, L. C., Cohen, S. C. C., Biddle, K. S., Schnure, K. S., Rapp, D. S., Johnson, S. C., Hoffman, S. C., Kierce, L. C., and Limyansky, A. C. M.

SOCCER

WITH a well-balanced team on both offense and defense, the Phi Gamma Delta booters defeated a scrappy Sigma Chi team in the playoffs, and with it won the soccer trophy for the second consecutive year.

The standings of the teams in both leagues were extremely close throughout the season with the S. C. C. and Kappa Sig's losing out in the semi-finals.

With the series tied at one apiece, the Phi Gam's went ahead in the final game aided by the accurate booting of Ballard to win 2 0.

WRESTLING

THAT the wrestling competition grow keener each year is evidenced by the fact that two of last year's champions failed to retain their laurels. The S. C. C. took their second cup of the year by winning first place in this sport. The results of the finals were as follows:

115 lb. Class—Fidler, S. C. C., pinned Liberty, T. U. O., Time 40 sec.

125 lb. Class—Mathias, S. C., pinned Thomas, S. C. C.,
Time 4 min. 15 sec.

135 lb. Class—Biddle, K. S., defeated Hyman, S. C. C., Advantage 11½ sec.

145 lb. Class—Flaugh, S. A. E., defeated Plewak, S. C. C.,
Advantage 31 sec.

155 lb. Class—Baiada, S. C., defeated Keim, S. A. E.
Advantage 80 sec.

165 lb. Class—McElhanev, S. C. C., pinned Rombro, S. A. M.,
Time 4:30

175 lb. Class—Funair, S. C. C., pinned Griffith, P. G. D., Time 3:30

Unlimited Class—Deuger defeated Wenner, S. A. E.

BASKETBALL

AFTER being swamped by a fast and experienced team representing the Student Campus Club, the Sigma Alpha Epsilon Five recovered to win the second game of the three final series by a one point margin. In the last game the non-fraternity men definitely established their superiority in winning a 34 to 20 victory.

BOXING

CONSISTENT with the line of competition in other intramural sports, this year's boxing matches produced several candidates for next year's varsity season. With the "manly art" becoming more of an art each year, training becomes more rigid, and the bouts prove much more hard fought and interesting.

115 lb. Class—Goodman, S. C., defeated Kleindiest, P. K. P.

125 lb. Class—Kierce, L. C. A., defeated Cohen, S. C. C.

135 lb. Class—Ferguson, K. S., defeated Hickman, S. C. C.

145 lb. Class—Baer, L. C. A., defeated Plewak, S. C. C.

165 lb. Class—McElhaney, S. C. C., defeated Cannestro, S. A. E.

175 lb. Class—Buzas, S. A. E., defeated Griffiths, P. G. D.

Unlimted Class—Deuger defeated Wenner, S. A. E.

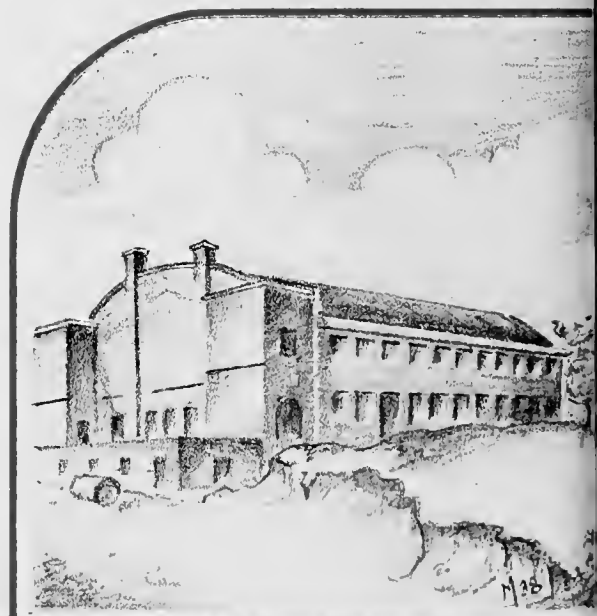

WOMEN'S INTRAMURAL SPORTS

THE Phi Mu team repaid the Student Campus Club girls for the defeat, the year before, in a close playoff game.

The 1937 baseball championship is the fourth in five years for the Phi Mu's.

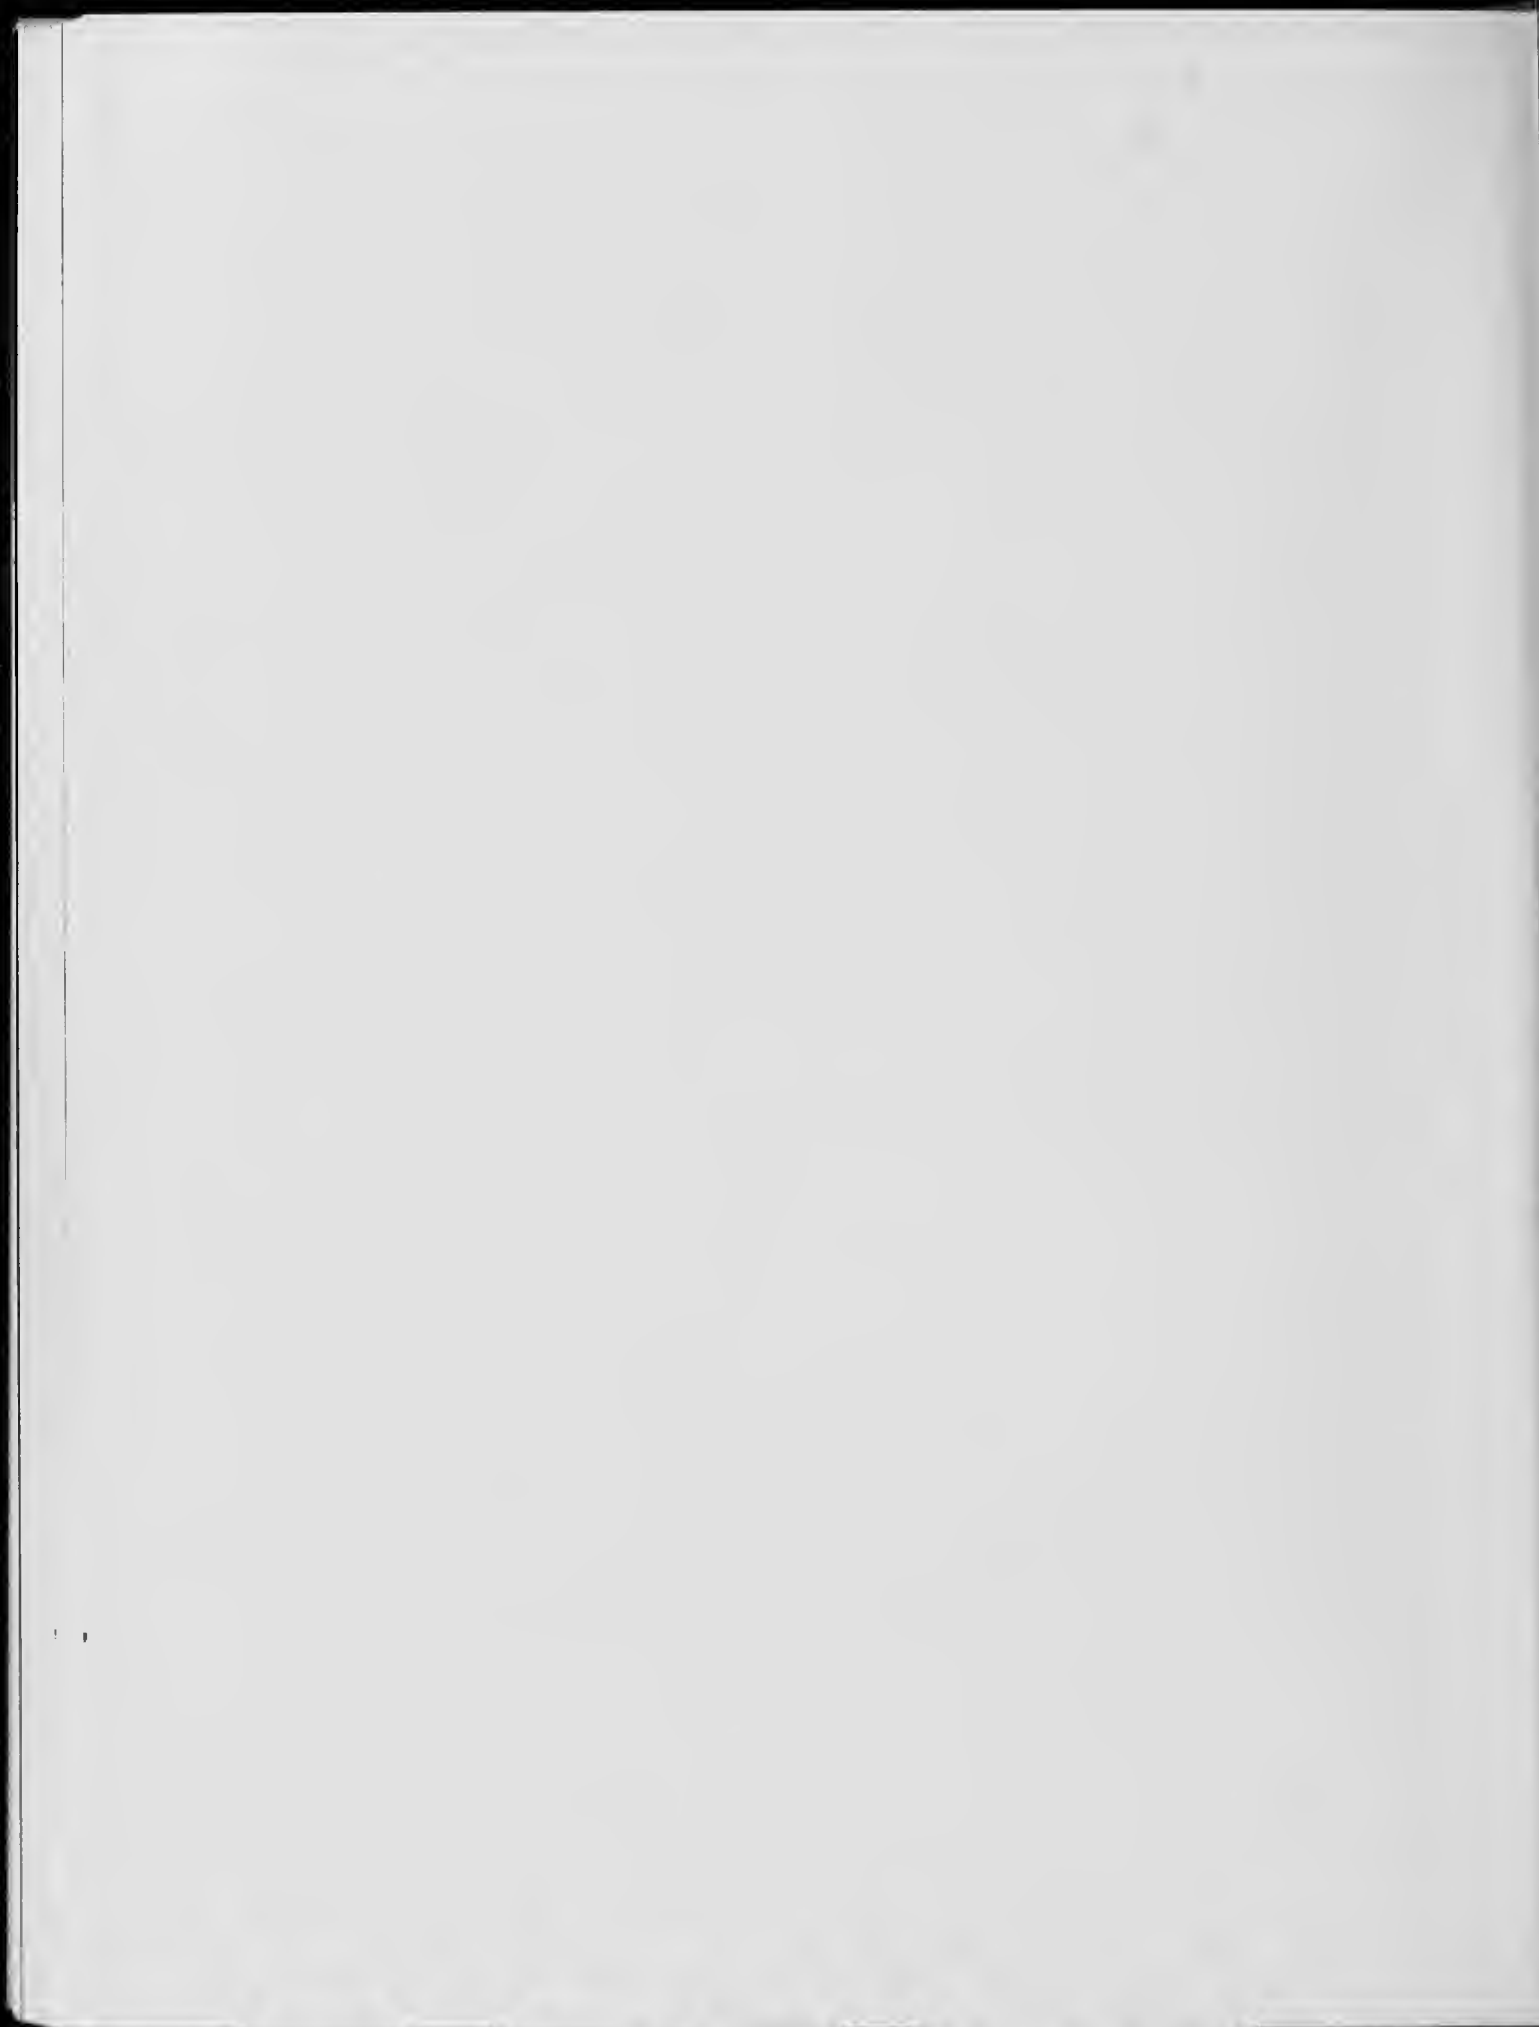

Keen competition and hard fought games featured the 1938 hockey season. The playoff between the Student Campus Club and Kappa Delta teams ended in a tie, and in an extra period the smoothly functioning S. C. C. team rallied to make the winning goal.

The closely matched teams of the Student Campus Club and Delta Delta Delta kept everyone in suspense until the last whistle when the Tri-Delts claimed the championship by the virtue of a 15-1 victory. This game climaxed a season during which both teams displayed outstanding power and teamwork.

FOUNDED AT JEFFERSON COLLEGE, 1852
PENNSYLVANIA GAMMA CHAPTER
ESTABLISHED, 1855

BUCKNELL'S oldest fraternity continued to hold its prominent position on the campus by participating in the many social, athletic, and academic events of the year.

Gamma represents a large and diversified group of men who are interested in a diversity of activities. With the realization that a balanced program of activities leads to the achievement of the aims and purposes of education at Bucknell, Phi Psi has placed men in nearly every sport and extra-curricular program including soccer, football, boxing, track, tennis, Glee Club, Band, and dramatics. This was rounded out with a good representation in the numerous honorary fraternities and student government organizations.

In completing its eighty-third year Phi Kappa Psi does not rest upon its accomplishments, but rather looks forward to the continued achievement of greater heights through fraternal, co-operative, and industrious participation and organization.

FOUNDED AT MIAMI UNIVERSITY, 1855

KAPPA CHAPTER

ESTABLISHED, 1864

SIGMA CHI was founded at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, on June 28, 1855. Its founding marked the completion of the famed "Miami Triad", acknowledged to be the beginning of the system of great, truly national fraternities as it exists today.

Sigma Chi came to Bucknell in 1864, when the present Kappa Chapter was organized by the then existing Iota Society. Kappa, having remained active from the time of its inception, is the oldest fraternity chapter of continued existence on the Bucknell Campus, celebrating seventy-five years of service to the University next year.

Believing that full development for its members lies not in concentration on a single, narrow phase of campus life, but in well balanced participation in a variety of collegiate affairs, Sigma Chi aims to produce not a single type of individual, but fully rounded personalities trained in representative groups. Kappa is a typical Sigma Chi Chapter, since she finds her men in every field of campus activity. Sigma Chi is represented at Bucknell in the Band, the Glee Club, and the Orchestra, on the Varsity football, basketball, baseball, track, and boxing teams, in Intermural sports, in Cap and Dagger and the Varsity "B" Club, and by the number of its men in Class and other campus offices. To balance this wholesome development more completely, Kappa places among the first ten of the ninety-seven Sigma Chi Chapters in scholarship.

PENNSYLVANIA DELTA CHAPTER

ESTABLISHED, 1882

DELTA CHAPTER of Phi Gamma Delta was founded over a half a century ago, in the fall of 1881. Since the time of her founding she has risen consistently until today she occupies a prominent position on the campus of Bucknell University. The "Fijis" participate scholastically, athletically, and socially.

In the fall of this year, Delta began her quest for the All-Year Trophy by sweeping aside all opposition to win the soccer cup. She gained the semi-final round in basketball, and will present strong teams in the remaining events. In varsity sports, Delta is represented by three men in soccer, four in boxing, three in track, and two in tennis. Many Deltans are wearers of the coveted "B".

During the past year, Delta has been represented, and her men have held prominent positions in the Commerce and Finance Club, Glee Club, Bucknellian, C. A., and professional and honorary fraternities.

Some five hundred Bucknellians have passed through the portals of Delta of Phi Gamma Delta, many of them men of world renown in their fields.

ESTABLISHED AT BUCKNELL, 1899

ONE of the oldest independent chapters in the East, Delta Sigma, this year observed its thirty-ninth birthday anniversary. Founded in 1899 as a society to encourage oratory and public speaking, the Demostheneans have been in continuous existence on the Bucknell campus since that time.

Highlighting the fraternity's program this year was the annual Founders Day, April 29 and 30. An invited audience witnessed the Demie play, "Dulcy", a comedy by George Kaufman and Marc Connelly, presented in the Lewisburg High School Auditorium, Friday evening, April 29. Continuing the practice revived last year, an all-male cast interpreted the roles in the play.

Throughout the year Demies were prominent in many campus activities. Some of the positions held this year by members of Delta Sigma include: editor and business manager of the Bucknellian, C. A. executive board, executive committee of the Student Board of Health, presidency of Pi Delta Epsilon, presidency of Economics Club, presidency of Student-Faculty Congress, president of Sociology Club, presidency of pre-ministerial group. Five Demies sang in the Glee Club, and others played in the Band and Symphony Orchestra.

Athletically, the fraternity turned out capable teams in all intramural sports, while Delta Sigma's softball ten prepared to defend its championship. Demies participated in varsity soccer, tennis, and baseball.

ALTHOUGH this is the first year of Sigma Phi Epsilon's inception upon this campus, the Bucknell chapter has long existed as a social fraternity. Our chapter has continued to rank well scholastically, athletically, and socially. Our Surrealist Ball, the oldest of its type on this campus, is a highlight on the social calendar.

Sigma Phi Epsilon has been active in debate, glee club, football, basketball, band, cheerleading, intramural athletics, Bucknellian, Interfraternity Council, honoraries, and other campus activities. PENNSYLVANIA BETA EPSILON CHAPTER
ESTABLISHED, 1930

THE fall of 1937, witnessed the forthcoming of a new era of prosperity for Beta Epsilon of Alpha Phi Delta. The return of ten actives and the acquisition of four pledges raised the membership to fourteen.

It is heartening to note that the smallness of our group did not in any way interfere with our participation in intramural or other outside activities. The chapter members fell in line and fought it out with other fraternities: giving their best whenever they were called upon to perform. Although Alpha Phi Delta is a "baby" fraternity on the Bucknell campus, it has gained a high degree of friendship and esteem among its member fraternities. We as a group are proud to be a part of the fraternal organization existing on our campus. Beta Epsilon is forever striving to better the conditions of its "limited group"; we try to look forward and to mend our mistakes in order that we might elevate ourselves in the eyes of our fellow students.

In the field of sports, Beta Epsilon has given Bucknell an outstanding athlete. In 1937 Enio Conti was elected co-captain of the football team; in May, 1937, he won the Middle Atlantic shot-put championship; and in 1938, he became a member of the boxing team. Intramural sports at Alpha Phi Delta, are on the up-grade. Thus far this year we have surpassed some of the bigger houses on the campus.

ESTABLISHED, 1895

PENNSYLVANIA BETA CHAPTER of Pi Beta Phi was founded in 1895, the first women's fraternity on the Bucknell campus. It has been an active chapter since its founding, and has taken part with other organizations in building Bucknell both academically and socially.

The chapter pledged twenty-one girls this last fall, which totals the chapter enrollment to fifty-six.

Last spring Pennsylvania Beta won the inter-sorority song contest sponsored by Mu Phi Epsilon. The four dances held during the year proved a great success.

In December the Pi Phi's gave a Christmas Party in conjunction with the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity for some poor children in Lewisburg. In April the chapter met with the Dickinson chapter for luncheon in Harrisburg for the second successive year.

The chapter presented the Hunt Hall House Mother, Mrs. Shoemaker, with a Pi Beta Phi mother's pin.

Pi Phi's are represented and hold offices in honorary fraternities and other outside organizations. They are also represented on the Bucknellian Staff, and the chapter has the honor of having its president as Editor-in-Chief of L'Agenda.

TAU CHAPTER

ESTABLISHED, 1904

FOLLOWING the leadership of its own national organization and national Pan-Hellenic, Tau is working toward a greater understanding and friendship among the sororities. It is only by cooperation among the Greek organizations that the fraternity system can gain a significant place in modern life. Through recognition of this bond of fellowship, sororities are able to take the lead in movements of world importance. We do this by taking an active part in those campus activities which bear upon modern problems.

Tau once again received the University and Pan-Hellenic Scholarship Cups. The chapter is represented in Cap and Dagger, Theta Alpha Phi, Delta Phi Alpha, C. E. A., Symphony Orchestra, Mixed Chorus, Girl's Glee Club, Student-Faculty Congress, Senior Counselors, Social Actions Committee, W. A. A., C. A., Education, Sociology, and Economic Clubs, Band, and L'Agenda. Deltas hold the following offices: Vice-President of W. A. A., Treasurer of Pan-Hellenic, Secretary of W. S. G. A., Secretary and Vice-President of Sociology Club, Treasurer of Junior Class, President of Sophomore Girls, Treasurer of C. E. A.

BETA THETA CHAPTER
ESTABLISHED, 1930

SEVEN years ago in September, 1930, Delta Zeta, national sorority, was founded on the Bucknell campus. This year in September, 1937 the suite was moved from its old quarters in Harris Hall to the fourth floor of Hunt Hall. This is considered quite a step in her growth and development.

Beta Theta is trying to follow the leadership of its national organization by developing the cultural phase of college life. The chapter has established a standard program which fosters forums in current events and a discussion of facts which are pertinent to a more rounded college life.

The group has been active in intra-sorority sports, has representatives in Pan-Hellenic, W. A. A., Women's Student Government, Mixed Chorus, the Bucknell Christian Association, and several honorary fraternities. A Delta Zeta is also president of the junior women.

Delta Zeta is trying to foster more friendly relations among sororities by entertaining different sororities at a cozy in the suite.

STUDENT CAMPUS CLUB

Row 1: Dunham, Diblin, Christopher
Row 2: Hyman, Kephart, Sloff

AN important feature of the life on Bucknell's campus is the activities of the Student Campus Club. Formed a few years ago by the students interested in providing outside activities for the non-fraternity men and women, the organization has reached a high degree of efficiency, and now, with sound financial backing, looks forward to even greater achievements in the future.

Social, athletic, and other types of activity are engaged in by its members. In sports, both the men and women are well represented by teams in the intramural league. Socially, the organization is active also. Two "big" dances and numerous informal socials are held throughout the year.

The fact that an organization of this kind exists is proof enough of its need. Students and faculty alike realize this fact, and the Student Campus Club enjoys harmonious relationships with social fraternities and sororities.

AMERICAN SOCIETY MECHANICAL ENGINEERS

IN 1912, a local society of mechanical engineers was organized on the Bucknell campus. This group became a chapter of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, a national organization, in 1915.

Active since its inception, the society strives to afford an opportunity for its members to cultivate better speaking ability through presentation of short talks, to gain a better knowledge in their own field by attending society lectures, and to form friendships with fellow engineers of our own and other college chapters.

KAPPA DELTA EPSILON

THE Bucknell Chapter of Kappa Delta Epsilon was installed on the campus January 8, 1938, when thirty-six charter members were initiated, and Dr. Frank G. Davis became the first elected faculty adviser. Composed of former members of the Women's Education Club, this professional education sorority has as its aim the intellectual development of a circle of well-trained teachers. Through the medium of speakers, trips to progressive education institutions, and individual reports, Kappa Delta Epsilon, during its first year at Bucknell, is laying the foundation for a well-organized program for the succeeding college generations of Bucknell women who are preparing for the teaching profession.

PI DELTA EPSILON

ADMITTING women to its membership this year for the first time, the Bucknell Chapter of Pi Delta Epsilon, national professional journalistic fraternity, during the second semester engaged in many activities designed to promote better editorship and to band together college publications workers.

In addition to fostering the informal discussion of journalistic problems in chapter meetings, Pi Delta Epsilon has heard addresses by several editors from this region, and closed its year with a publications banquet modeled after the famed Gridiron dinners of the National Press Club in Washington.

THE NEWMAN CLUB

IN 1897, on the University of Pennsylvania campus, the Newman Club was established as an organization of Catholic students at secular institutions. The local chapter is an unofficial member of this national federation, and conducts regular meetings in the recreation room of the Sacred Heart Chapel. The principal function of the club has been a consideration of the chief problems facing the Catholic student in addition to religious and social activities. A delegate was sent to the Middle-Atlantic Federation of Newman Clubs and two Communion breakfasts were held during the year.
